

This last month has been a lot slower than others, but we filled it with some fun and exciting things! It was good to have a little more time to relax and hang out as a base before we get crazy busy this summer with teams and everything else that we're going to do.

HAITI TEAM: For 2 weeks this month, I worked with an outreach team from YWAM Haiti, but that's not even the coolest part.... When I was on outreach in Haiti in January, I was on their base for the beginning of their DTS, so not only had I already met all of them, but their outreach leaders were our contacts there! How crazy is that??? So it was really cool to be able to work with them again and I even picked up some more Creole! We worked in the Colonia Sinaloa, where we build many of our Homes of Hope houses. We painted the church, did a lot of evangelism, helped out with their kids club, and got to really invest in the pastors' lives there. We also went to another city, Tepic, for one weekend, where they had the opportunity to go on TV and share, with the people of Tepic, the gospel and all that God is doing in Haiti! It really was especially awesome to see how they could relate to the Mexican people through their own backgrounds, stories and triumphs!

SPECIAL TIMES AT YWAM MAZATLAN:

Since this month was a lot slower than most, we had the opportunity to do a couple extra, fun things! We took on several faith projects that everyone got involved in--buying more air conditioners, getting another van, putting up more shade for our patio area, and building more bunk beds to host all of our summer teams. We are still working on all of these things, but we have seen God come through in extraordinary ways in the past month. Because of these special projects, we have been seeking God together every morning. Through these times,

Base Camp Out

God led us to have a 2 day camp out on the base as a family to just celebrate what God is doing and look back on how far He has brought us in the last 5 years. It was a really cool time of worship, praying for each other, interceding for the city, playing in the pool, and just hanging out together.

YWAM MEXICO STAFF CONFERENCE:

To finish off the month, we all took a trip to Puerto Vallarta for the weekend for a nationwide YWAM staff conference. Even though our van broke down on the way and we all had to squish into one of the staff member's pick-up, it was really nice to be able to catch up with and see my friends from other YWAM bases in Mexico, meet new people, hear some awesome teachings, and be in a new city. One of the things that encouraged me the most was hearing other people's and other bases' excitement and vision for Mexico City as we focus on there next year. I'm really praying about how God wants me to get involved and what my next steps will be as this approaches.

PRAYER REQUESTS:

- for the rest of the money and resources to come in for all of our faith projects
- for direction for us, as a base, as we want to start getting even more involved in Mazatlan
- for wisdom and guidance as I begin to pray about my possible next steps in heading towards Mexico City and getting involved with what God is doing there

Thank you all so much for all of your prayer and support! It is always great to hear from you! You are all a blessing to my life!

Dios les bendiga,
Cassandra
