

Mommy and daughter date

July DTS staff and students

Staff retreat

U of N Conference – Praying for the Nations

September 12, 2013

Hey everyone!

Sorry it's been so long since I wrote last. I've decided to write update letters every other month now, so you'll hear from me a little less, but I'll have a lot more to say each time!

JULY DTS

So on July 1st, I started staffing another DTS! This DTS has two different focuses that the students could choose between - Media and Compassion. We have 16 students from the U.S., Mexico, Colombia, Scotland, and New Zealand! We're currently in week 10 of the school, Relationships week. We've seen some really amazing breakthroughs with the students. We had a week on Original Design and Freedom in Christ and it was amazing to see how, as each student realized their identity in Christ in a new way, that helped them to walk through steps of healing from wounds of the past, forgive people who had hurt them, and get free from strongholds, generational curses, and lies. We are getting ready for outreach now as well. We will be going to the Philippines for all of October and November to work with a few YWAM bases and other ministries on some of the southernmost islands.

MINNESOTA

I was able to go home for 2 weeks in August to spend some time with my family and even see a few of you! Because I did 2 schools back-to-back, I couldn't go home for as long as I normally do, but I still got a couple weeks to rest and spend with my family. It was nice to see those of you who I did see, and for the rest of you, I'll probably be back in February!

UNIVERSITY OF THE NATIONS CONFERENCE

We just got back from the YWAM, University of the Nations conference in Tijuana. We drove 2 days each week to get there and back, and spent a week listening to many different speakers and our founder! The University of the Nations is the university that YWAM began that all of our schools are accredited through. It was amazing to have hundreds of YWAMers all together, hear about what God's doing around the world, see the direction we're taking as a mission, and seek God together!

PRAYER REQUESTS

- * that everyone would get their outreach money in by Monday (the due date) - many of the students and staff are still fighting to see their money come in
- * that God would prepare the hearts of the Philippino people that we are going to meet and minister to so that they would want to draw closer to God
- * for energy and focus for these last few weeks of lecture phase - to not get distracted or so focused on outreach that we miss out on what God wants to do in these last couple of weeks

I appreciate all of you so much! Thank you for praying for me and my team!

Bendiciones,

Cassandra

www.mcii.org